Fly, D. H. Fly, John Horger, T. A. McClaugherty, Richard Reilly, J. S. Fly, Walter McClaugherty, Conley, Isaac Wilson; Rev. Foster; Misses Amanda Smith, Willie D. ## PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETING.

A GIANT RADISH.

Four-and-a-half-pounder Raised Near D'Hanis.

"The writer thinks that this is another proof that Southwest Texas will some day pass the Imperial valley in production," reads the letter of J. P. Ephraim of D'Hanis, Texas, Medina county, when he forwarded to the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce a radish weighing four and one-half pounds, raised by Frank Wolff on his farm four miles north of D'Hanis.

The enormous radish is perfectly sound, and, according to agriculture experts, developed along natural curves but, as one man who viewed the curious vegetable expressed:

"That radish is a whole truck farm, representing a larger yield than some sections produce on an acre of garden plots."

The radish is said to be one of the largest ever recorded in agricultural history of the Southwest—S. A. Light.

The radish referred to in the above clipping from the San Antonio Daily Light was grown by Mr. Frank X. Wolff on his Seco farm. Medina county soil has the fertility to produce any thing that grows out of the ground.

MRS. ROBERT DECKER ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Robert Decker delightfully entertained the members of the Catholic Ladies' Club at her ranch home on Tuesday afternoon.

Those so inclined spent a couple of hours with their embroidering while others played forty-two.

Cake and coffee were served to the following: Mesdames Ed de Montel, L. E. Heath, Chas. Filleman, L. J. Brucks, R. J. Noonan, Joe Mechler, S. A. Jungman, F. G. Muennink, Fritz De Grodt, and Robert Weynand.

Mrs. Alice Reinhart returned Saturday to her home at Seco after having spent several days here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Felix Batot.

Misses Lurene and Clara Decker spent last week in San Antonio where they were the guests of Lieutenant and Mrs. A. J. Battaglia and Miss Hilda Mueller.

BAKING IN THE HOME.

By Helen Harrington Downing.

For the past few years there has been a noticeable tendency to buy ready baked and delicatessen foods instead of preparing them at home; and with many it has become a permanent habit, hard to drop.

Lately, however, it has been noticed, home baking is again finding itself of prime importance among other household duties and new as well as old favorite recipes are being exchanged. Card index recipe boxes are given to the bride-to-be; while housewives and students are taking as great pride in showing their ability in the culinary line as the chef and teacher.

Homebaked foods have after all the best flavor and taste, and real appreciation is shown when a plate of fresh home baked doughnuts or crullers are served where bakery goods have been the usual thing, and when hot light crisp fritters are served for desert, every one is bound to be pleased.

When a platter of piping hot corn fritters or salmon croquettes, seasoned just right, are brought to the table with suitable accompanying sauce or gravy, the appreciation shown is sure to repay the efforts of the one who prepared them.

These things certainly show we are getting back some of the good old fashioned days of home happiness.

Points About Deep Fat Frying

The fat should be tested to see that it is at the right temperature for the best cooking. Not more than four or five doughnuts should be fried at one time when using a medium sized kettle such as is found in the average kitchen. A larger number will cool the fat and the result is the doughnuts are apt to crack. Neither will fried food be as crisp if cooked in too much of a hurry. Slow but not too slow cooking is preferable.

The frying basket should be lowered gently into the hot fat until the contents are completely covered with the hot fat. After frying, lift up the basket and allow it to hang on a hook or strip at side of kettle, and drain off any excess fat. Lift out doughnuts on to a piece of clean unglazed brown paper, which will absorb any further grease. Change the paper as soon as it becomes greasy.

Calumet Doughnuts

4 cups flour
4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 level teaspoon salt.
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten together
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup milk
Sift flour, then measure, add baking powder and salt and sift three times, put sugar and butter together, add well-beaten eggs, then flour and milk alternately. Turn out on a well floured board and roll out 1/2 inch thick. Cut with doughnut cutter. Let stand five minutes and fry in a kettle of hot fat. Vanilla or cinnamon may be added.

SEVERE CRAMPING SPELLS, PAINS IN BACK AND S

"My trouble has been periodic cramping spells," says Mrs. C. C. Draper, of Atlanta, Texas. "For several years these have come on me so bad that I had to quit my work and go to bed. Every month I would stay in bed from one to two days. The pains in my back and sides were awful."

"This went on for several months after I was married until, one time when I was having a bad spell, my husband suggested that I try Cardui. I said I would try it, so he got me a bottle at the store and I began to take it."

"It seemed like I improved from the very first dose. When I had taken one bottle I was very much better. I did not cramp so hard the next month and I ate and slept better. I was not nearly so nervous, either. I thought Cardui was fine, so I continued the treatment until I had taken five bottles, at which time I felt completely well. I had no more cramping spells at all. My health was as good as when I am feeling fine now and all the credit to Cardui had been suffering for before I took it."

Cardui is a vegetable extract containing no harmful ingredients made from mild-acting medicines with a gentle, tonic, strengthening effect upon certain female organs upon the system in general. have testified to its special time of entering woman's maturity and at the time change of life.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Routt celebrated their Golden Wedding January 21 so quietly that the event came near being ancient history before we learned of it. However, we can not let it pass wholly unrecorded.

Mr. and Mrs. Routt were married fifty years ago at Huntsville, Alabama. They came to Texas in 1885, and settled at their present location in Medina County in 1890. Their union has been blessed with six children, four girls and two boys. Only three of them could be present at the celebration. These were Mrs. E. J. Douglas of Charlotte, Texas, Mrs. W. P. Laughinghouse of this place, and Miss Mae Routt who resides with her parents.

Russell Routt of Crystal City, Mrs. W. K. Harper of Houston, Texas, and Robert Routt of Little Rock, Arkansas, the other three children, could not attend.

Half a century is a long time for a couple to journey through life—longer than is vouchsafed to the majority. But where companionship grows sweeter as it projects into the years, the time seems short.

The Anvil Herald congratulates this worthy couple and joins their family and friends in wishing them many more anniversaries of this occasion in their lives.

The members of the Parent-Teacher Association are collecting old papers and magazines, preparing to make a car-load shipment as soon as the proper amount is secured.

Committees will make a canvass of the town about Friday, February 8th, to collect all the papers you would like to dispose of at this time. If everyone will have them gathered in a convenient place it will greatly accommodate the committees.

Please save all your old papers as they will be called for about once a month.

Foolish and Untimely.

"Marry," said Mrs. Gadder to her maid, "who was that man at the door just now?"

"I don't know, ma'am, whether he was an agent or a preacher. He said he had a message for you from the hereafter and wanted to know if you were thinking about your immortal soul."

"Dear me," exclaimed Mrs. Gadder. "What a foolish question to ask a woman who is packing her trunks for a trip to Palm Beach!"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

TWO RICH PRINTER'S 'BULLS'

Postmaster General Has Preserved Specimens of Work of the "Inspired Composer."

Postmaster General Work has two choice specimens of typographical errors which he keeps on his desk handy to show to the discriminating. Like most everybody else in the world, Doctor Work appreciates that sort of thing.

Both of these "bulls" occurred in connection with printed portraits of Doctor Work when he was appointed to the highest position in the postal service. One of them bears the title: "Dr. Herbert Work, physician to the pope. Was with the late pope in his last illness."

Evidently the inscriptions of the two photographs got mixed up, and nobody caught the error, on account of the title of doctor of both physicians.

The other sample was a picture of the postmaster general, and an inscription which should have read: "Colorado Man Appointed Postmaster General."

But it got in like this: "Colored Man Appointed Postmaster General."

One Last Request.

They were sitting close together and suddenly, unable to resist the temptation, he kissed her. She was furious.

"Leave me; I never want to see you again!" she shrieked. "You are no gentleman to take advantage of a poor girl that way. Leave me, I say; leave me at once! After this I do not know you."

"All right," he agreed meekly, "but before I go may I beg one last favor of you? I shall never see you again. Will you grant it for old times' sake?"

Her just rage abated a trifle. "If it is not too much I will try."

Then, with a pleading look in his eyes, he begged:

"Darling, before I go won't you please take your arm from around my neck?"—American Legion Weekly.

Wrong Kind of Toys.

A man before the city police judge for "bootlegging" explained the presence of a number of empty half-pint bottles in his home in this manner:

"I was savin' 'em for my little nephew, Willie," he said. "Willie likes to play with them."

"Half-pint bottles are the wrong kind of toys for Willie," the judge returned, "and I fine you $50 and costs."

Inside Facts.

Alice had been to Sunday school for the first time, and had come home filled with information. She was overheard to say to her six-year-old sister, as she laid a wee hand over her heart, "When you hear something wite here, you know it is conscience w'ispering to you."

"No such thing," responded the six-year-old; "it's just wind in your tummy."—Philadelphia Ledger.

This is an age of high powered machinery, which enables the farmer to cultivate his land, with a minimum of time and labor unthought of in those olden days.

But livestock too have changed, and now we have a highly developed blocky beef animal capable of putting on weight in an incredibly short time. One of our bulls weighed 1000 pounds at ten and a half months. The average weight of our entire herd of yearling bulls is 900 pounds.

Lovers of good cattle have produced these splendid specimens through years of patient selection and breeding. The result of their years of labor are yours by the use of a good herd bull.

Practice What You Preach!

When we decided to conduct this "HOME LOYALTY CAMPAIGN", which we are doing at some considerable expense to ourselves, we did so for two specific reasons: 1st—Because we desired to identify ourselves with this TRADE AT HOME movement and show our business men in general that we are heartily for it, and 2nd—Because we hope, in this way, to draw your attention to some very vital points, which if heeded, are sure to work for good not only in trade circles, but in every way.

We realize the truth of the saying "THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD". A fair and impartial, hard-hitting Editor is, by reason of "the power of the press", in position to wield a wonderful influence for good in a community of thinking people like ours, and we want you to know that what we have to say of these Campaign Articles, is said without fear or favor but with the kindest of feeling and sense of good-fellowship throughout.

The man who does not practice what he preaches is, of course, a hypocrite and away down deep in his heart he knows he is. It isn't enough to say: "I AM LOYAL TO MY HOME TOWN AND ITS INTERESTS". The proof must be there to back it up.

St. Paul says: "AS A MAN THINKETH IN HIS HEART SO IS HE". A wonderful assertion by a wonderful man who knew and spoke the truth.

If you profess to be a loyal citizen of this community and then proceed to send or spend your money away from here unnecessarily and with strangers, without first trying to make these purchases at home, YOU ARE NOT BEING LOYAL TO YOUR HOME TOWN INTERESTS".

That may sound a bit rough around the edges, folks, but anything worth saying at all, should be said "straight from the shoulders", let the shoe fit whom it may.

Now to our friends in business we wish to call attention to the other side of this TRADE AT HOME matter. If a prospective customer comes to you for certain Merchandise or Service and you cannot supply his wants, that is no fault of his, and if his wants cannot be had in Hondo you can't blame him for ordering elsewhere. He has proven his good intentions by his act and because of this you owe him every consideration. So do your best to help him obtain what he wants, thus saving him time and trouble, and then try to have what he wants in stock when he comes again. And we all know the value of courtesy. If a customer is extended more courteous treatment abroad than at home, it will be perfectly natural for him to buy abroad. Don't OVERLOOK THAT POINT.

Let's all get in the habit of being genuine dyed-in-the-wool Boosters. A town where everybody boosts for his neighbor, regardless of the fact that some are competitors, IS SURE TO BE A LIVE TOWN AND A FINE PLACE TO LIVE IN.

And remember that any city which is making efforts to reach the goal of prosperity and success, can advance no further than its local citizenship will permit. Stand solidly back of your business men, patronize them just as liberally as you possibly can. Keep your money circulating in Hondo.
